

THE FLESH HAMMERS

BIO:

True to the quote on the back of The Flesh Hammers newest album Cinco, the band is constantly changing and not fixed to a place or time. Going on over twelve years, The Flesh Hammers are a controversial and musically brilliant outfit who have succeeded in creating a sound all their own. Formed by Blackie Crabtree, and joined by long-term member Paula Campbell, the band has grown with each successive year. The band has five full-length albums released with international distribution; one released by Wonder-taker Records when the band was signed to the San Francisco record label.

In concert, the band unleashes rock at the rate of submachine gun fire. They are a force that needs to be heard and seen to be believed. The Flesh Hammers love playing live and have toured up and down the west coast of the United States. They are a featured band in the 2017 indie documentary rock n' roll movie, Music Driven, which has been premiering in cities across the United States. The band were featured performers at the 2014 Las Vegas Music Summit in Las Vegas, Nevada and 2015 Offbeat Festival in Reno, Nevada. The band is planning on a future national tour of the United States.
